CHAPTER OUTLOOK

Our Challenges

The Idaho Centennial Chapter has been facing challenges in membership retainment and recruiting new members. Additionally, several of our board members have been involved for several years and burnout is a concern. Finally, rising costs are challenging our already moderate budget.

Our Goals

As a member-based organization, the primary goal for the AGA Idaho Centennial Chapter is to retain existing members and recruit new members. Historically, we have accomplished this by providing high-quality, low-cost professional development opportunities, advertising via email, promoting the CGFM certification, and through endorsement from existing members. With these successes in mind, specific goals for the current program year include:

- Promote the CGFM professional designation to current and potential members.
- Provide incentives for members to recruit the next generation of chapter leaders.
- Prepare for future success through succession planning and enlist newer members for leadership roles on the Chapter Executive Committee.
